this might turn into a crisis magentavampire55

whenever im not very distracted, I start crying ahaha

wow

someone starred all the posts thanks a lot

that was super incredibly helpful and kind of you

Please talk to someone IRL about this or try to get your parents to let you see a therapist.

I'm already going to a therapist, a psychiatrist, am on a home plan given to me by the psych people at the hospital, and I've tried four different kinds of medication. It keeps getting worse.

I made a post explains but the mods might not let it though because it has important things in

5

hydra

this might turn into a crisis

magentavampire55

Oh look

thanks mods

might as well mention I tried a service dog (he got taken away--I was too anxious and depressed for him HAHA), two other therapists, and pretty much everything under the sun. I can't go to real school, I can't go out in public, I can't make friends, the only thing left to do is hope that eventually I'll find a medication that works. Don't tell me to try this or that because I've tried it.

You all feel uncomfortable don't you but sorry for me

thats why you're all starring but refusing to post or maybe you just think it's funny

Ok, so keeping a negative mindset will get you nowhere. You wanna feel better? Don't you? You need to try to do things that will benefit your health. Try to sleep, eat healthy and a healthy amount, and exercise (no matter how much it's awful, it increases dopamine so you just deal with it). Write or draw or sing or dance or just do something that's a creative outlet. Look up self care on pintrest. Just try. It cannot hurt you. You can stay miserable or you can try. thanks for coming to my ted talk

@ivory I don't have a negative mindset, I actually have a very positive one when you consider the crippling depression and anxiety so thanks for nothing, I can't just exercise and health all my mental problems away

@others it really just helps to see people replying people come into our lives for a reason bringing something we must learn we are led to those who help us most to grow & we help them in return i don't know if i believe that's true but i know i'm who i am today because i knew you hazedragon475

yeah medications and therapists aren't solve-all solutions but you definitely have a positive attitude if you've been able to stick it out this long. If you add another five years to that, you'd be an absolute icon

I hope I don't come off as sarcastic or rude because I genuinely think that you're awesome for bearing with it this long

Here's a good piece of advice - don't give up, keep trying to win the battle you fight every day..
